The Liz Burdette Yearbook Adviser of the Year, which comes with a $250 prize, will go to the individual whom judges decide is the most worthy. To compete for this honor, you must send an application letter and any supplemental materials to arrive in our office no later than Sept. 11. Your application letter should explain why you deserve this award and give us your history as a yearbook adviser, with emphasis on the 2019-20 academic year. We recommend you also include at least one additional letter of support from an administrator, a student and/or a fellow adviser to supplement your application. Attach this application form to your application materials.
